I am delighted to be a co-promoter of a "Hammers Down Under & UK Premier League Supporters' Tour" for the start of the UK Premier League season.

Andy Paschalidis, one of Australia's best sports journalists, and I have joined forces to co-promote this smorgasbord of English Premier League football. We will make an emotional pilgrimage to Upton Park for their return to the big time and enjoy three other Premiership matches during our two-week visit to England.

After West Ham's glorious victory last month, I couldn't just sit still and wait for the new season to commence. So when Andy approached me to join him on a Football tour to the UK for West Ham's first game back in the Premiership, plus so much more, I just could not resist.

We have a feast of football for you to celebrate the return of the mighty Hammers to the Premier League in 2005-06 after our sensational victory over Preston North End in the Play-Off Final back in May.

We also will attend Australia v Columbia on Tuesday August 16 (the match has just been moved to Tuesday) at Craven Cottage and this will be a fantastic event - Australia in London - what a treat!

Subject to changes to the draw by Sky Sports, we will visit a second London club on our first weekend and join the Socceroos for their friendly against Columbia at Craven Cottage, Fulham's home ground in London. This will be Australia's last game before the World Cup qualifiers.

Then we join the Hammers on the road at Newcastle's St James' Park, the 2nd largest club ground in England! This will be one of the last chances to see Alan Shearer in action. For those who want even more football, on the second Sunday we'll organise tickets to a 4th Premiership match.
